Focus of the course: This workshop will assist those with some background in Schema Therapy in developing and fine-tuning their skills. The workshop will also specifically look at the implementation of treatment for Borderline Personality Disorder (BPD) as well as Narcissism. Participants will have extensive opportunity to practice experiential exercises such as imagery and chair work. Time will be allocated to troubleshoot commonly experienced difficulties such as working with the detached protector and parent modes.

This workshop presented by STTA is accredited by the International Society of Schema Therapy (ISST) as a 3-day workshop that can be used as the second and final workshop for the purpose of accreditation as a schema therapist. For more information on the ISST accredited training program see www.schematherapytraining.com.

Places are strictly limited to allow for better supervised practice and feedback and we expect this workshop to quickly reach full capacity so please book early to avoid disappointment.

Presenter Bio: Dr Brockman has extensive experience teaching and supervising on clinical psychology masters programs in Sydney since 2010. His clinical experience is drawn from both public (e.g. Hospitals, community mental health) and private health sector positions (private practice) in Sydney. Dr Brockman is accredited by the International Society for Schema Therapy (ISST) as a schema therapist, supervisor and trainer. He currently holds a research fellowship with Australian Catholic University (ACU) where he researches psychological approaches to well-being. He has a major clinical and research interest in formulation and intervention with complex presentations that prove difficult to treat via standard evidence-based protocols. Dr Brockman is currently engaged in clinical research focusing on extending the schema model into novel populations (e.g. GAD, Eating Disorders, HIV Sufferers, Problem Gamblers, Forensic Patient and Psychosis). Dr Brockman is also currently a consultant clinical supervisor for the Institute of Mental Health (IMH) Singapore.
